COURSE OVERVIEW

Women of Influence, Transitioning the Workplace with Wisdom and Strategy is a powerful and highly engaging, two-day seminar customized specifically for women in positions of leadership within law enforcement, corrections, and other public safety entities. With continuous change happening at such a rapid pace, women in leadership must be prepared to step into their roles with confidence to navigate the unrelenting shifts taking place. They must also be fully aware of the challenges they will face as well as be equipped with tools and insight on how to effectively overcome them.

It takes courage, perseverance, and fortitude to effectively lead others in today's work environment. Being a woman in authority within a profession that has been traditionally male dominated, certainly presents its own set of unique challenges which will be discussed during this training.

During this 2-day, no-nonsense seminar we will focus on the following thought provoking topics:

- The Evolution of Leadership: Leadership Then and Leadership Now
- Overcoming the Law of the Lid
- Building a Successful Organizational Environment
- Influencing in a traditionally male dominated profession
- Managing critical conversations and difficult discussions
- Knowing Thyself: Leadership traits unique to you
- Strategies, wisdom, and insight from successful women in leadership
